

When surveyed,
a majority of ASI consumers rated their experience with ASI as “excellent.”

That praise from consumers meant a lot to Accessible Space. Those who choose to live in ASI apartments are, after all, are our most important audience, the ones who daily experience the results of ASI’s labors. Whether individuals with mobility impairments, people with traumatic brain injuries, or seniors, ASI consumers were and are our greatest reason for existence.

“Supportive living has truly given me and many others like me freedom—the freedom to stay late at an internship so I can impress my boss and get the job that might get me out of poverty. The freedom to spend a little extra time with the first date whom I just might marry. The freedom to be a young, rambunctious 21-year-old and even make some mistakes knowing that there would be someone there to back me up when I needed help. Supportive housing has given me the opportunity to shape my own American dream—24 hours a day, seven days a week, 365 days a year!”

“Thank you for letting me live here. I love it. You are the best, and I mean the best.”
